The New Art Gallery Walsall

Introduction

The New Art Gallery Walsall presents, collects and interprets historic, modern and contemporary art in innovative and challenging ways.

The Gallery is home to the distinguished Garman Ryan Collection, donated to the Borough of Walsall by Lady Kathleen Epstein in 1973. It consists of 365 works of art in many different media and from diverse periods and cultures around the world. This collection documents the career of Jacob Epstein and comprises examples of his extraordinary circle of friends and family including Augustus John, Gaudier-Brzeska, Modigliani and Lucian Freud, as well as works from European masters such as Constable, Monet and Van Gogh. Our Permanent Collection, established in 1892, now numbers 3000 works, from Victorian paintings to contemporary installations.

The changing exhibitions on Floors 3 and 4 focus on the contemporary visual arts, presenting both solo and group exhibitions by international artists as well as those from our own locality. Through our Studio and Development programmes, we support artistic and curatorial practice within the region. Through the wide-ranging contemporary programme, we support artists at varying stages of their careers, from students and graduates through to internationally renowned artists and we seek to build and develop audiences for the contemporary visual arts.
